Bishops urge all Catholics to study Synod's working document Instrumentum laboris

All Catholics are being urged to read the working document that will guide the Synod meeting in Rome in October and help to set the future direction of the Church. Bishop of Auckland Stephen Lowe, President of the NZ Catholic Bishops Conference, says the Instrumentum laboris (Working Document) published by the Synod Secretariat is another step towards the future, not its final word. "This working document is the product of the process of the Church listening to and hearing what the People of God have said during the parish, diocesan, national and continental stages of the Synod process that Catholics here and around the world have been part of," says Bishop Steve. "It is a document that reflects the Holy Spirit speaking to people throughout the world. As such it is a document for the whole Church, and I invite everyone to prayerfully read and reflect on it, and to pray for the Synod's work over the next 18 months."

The second talk – MELVILLE – Whatever Happened to the Modern World?

The modern era, which was supposed to be all about progress and reason, has gotten itself into serious trouble. In many ways the modern world has become unfit for real people, and as it progresses, it becomes even less so. We cannot make a society fit for humans until we admit that the modern world, though it has gained many things, has also been a time of losses for humanity. The most serious of these losses is the loss of Christ. And knowing how that happened can help us recover a modern world fit for people.

North Island - August registrations open!

For more than 10 years, the ACTIV8 Pro-Life Training week has been equipping Kiwis to become a more effective and compassionate voice on abortion, euthanasia and other pro-life issues.

Everyone from politicians, to lawyers, to doctors, to teachers, to nurses, to pastors and Church leaders, to university students, to mums and dads have been inspired and empowered by attending ACTIV8. Register here
